

In a Garden

words: A C Swinburne

music: Betty Roe

Andante, lullaby

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It begins in 3/4 time with a tempo marking of 'Andante, lullaby'. The piano part features a steady accompaniment of eighth notes in the right hand and a more active bass line in the left hand. The voice part enters with the lyrics 'Ba - by, ba - by, see the flow - ers!'. The score includes dynamic markings such as mp, mf, and f, and includes a 'Ped.' (pedal) marking. The piece changes to 4/4 time at measure 13. The lyrics continue: 'fair - er things than these, Fair - er though they be than dreams of ours.' and 'Ba - by ba - by, hear the birds! Ba - by knows Bet - ter, bet - ter songs than those, Sweet - er though they sound than sweet - est'. The score concludes with a final piano accompaniment in 4/4 time.

Piano

5 mp Ped.

Voice

mf Ba - by, ba - by, see the flow - ers! Ba - by sees Pno.

9

Voice

f fair - er things than these, mf Fair - er though they be than dreams of ours. —

Pno.

f mf mp Ped.

13

Voice

mf Ba - by ba - by, hear the birds! Ba - by knows

Pno.

f

18

Voice

f Bet - ter, bet - ter songs than those, mp Sweet - er though they sound than sweet - est

Pno.